

Safari of Self-Discovery

Based on Surviving Your Serengeti: 7 Skills to Master Business and Life

75-90 Minutes | Large Screens | Highly Visual

Africa-born Swanepoel shares the distinctive parallels between the African jungle and our concrete jungle, revealing the wisdom we can learn from nature. This engaging keynote presentation is far more than a talk. It's a high-energy, life-changing experience that transports attendees into an "African Safari" with awe-inspiring visuals, stimulating stories, and revealing breakthroughs.

This presentation redefines how people view and comprehend themselves and others, inspiring and energizing them to develop more positive and optimistic ways of connecting with the instinctive skills and strengths residing in all of us.

The presentation is accompanied by a free three-minute online quiz that has been taken by over 500,000 people.

Skills Sets Illuminated During the Presentation:

- Planning ahead and always thinking strategically,
- Remaining tenacious and not giving up so easily,
- Becoming more enterprising and creative with solutions,
- Maintaining high levels of efficiency and effectively,
- Increasing resourcefulness and willingness to think out the box,
- Improving communication and packaging of the message,
- Displaying more grace, understanding, and kindness.

Check Availability
swanepoel.com/book

NOTE: This talk is highly visual and is best delivered on a large screen. It is 75-90 minutes in duration and cannot be shortened. It is suitable for all audiences and has been delivered to project managers, artists, engineers, real estate agents, dentists, etc. It is based on Swanepoel's New York Times bestseller, "Surviving Your Serengeti."